DISCLAIMER

The Teacher's Guide to Traditional Medicine Clinical Practice Manual is intended primarily for use by teachers at acupuncture colleges. The manual is not intended for use by persons without formal training and regulatory authorization to practice acupuncture.

All information present in this guide is for educational purposes only and is not intended to substitute professional biller, tax professional, or attorney advice. Healthcare laws, rules, and regulations are complex and highly regulated. They change frequently, and because these changes can be significant, you should always check with appropriate professionals to stay fully abreast of the current laws, rules, and regulations that impact the delivery of healthcare services.

The author has no intention to promote a specific product or company reflected in this book. Neither the authors, editors, nor contributors to this text assume any liability for injury and damage to persons or property from the use or operation of any methods, products, instructions, or concepts referred to or contained within this publication.

Any data reflected is purely imaginary and does not reflect actual patients. Any recommendations are not intended to be used as a substitute for the independent judgment of the acupuncturist. Adherence to these best practices will not ensure a successful outcome for every patient. There are other acceptable methods of evaluation and treatment aimed at the same result. The acupuncturist must make the decision to utilize a particular assessment, clinical procedure, or treatment plan in light of the clinical data presented by the patient, the diagnostic and treatment options available, and the patient's preferences and values.

The Teacher's Guide to Traditional Medicine Clinical Practice Standards course is a copyrighted publication. Permission is granted to download and use the manual from <https://asiantherapies.org/academy/books/> website only. As the guide will be periodically updated, printing or reproduction from any other website may result in obtaining obsolete content. The Asian Therapies Academy and Galina V. Roofener do not provide hard copies of the manual. No content of this manual may be translated into any language unless the translator has entered into a prior written agreement with Asian Therapies Academy and Galina V. Roofener.

The manual focuses on practice standards and is not a guide to appropriate treatment for particular health conditions. While the manual is intended to reflect best practices as of the date of publication, opinions as to best practices may differ and change over time. Ongoing study and debate concerning best practices within the academic and practitioner communities is encouraged. The Asian Therapies Academy and Galina V. Roofener assume no liability for any injury that may occur as a result of a practitioner's use of, or reliance upon, any information contained in this manual.
